Statement of Facts

These facts are based on my personal participation in this investigation and on written and oral statements received from other law enforcement officers. I submit that the facts contained in this statement demonstrate that probable cause exists to believe that the defendant named in the attached complaint committed the crimes charged in the complaint.

On June 07, 2008, at approximately 1230 hours, Concepcion PALOMO arrived at the San Ysidro Port of Entry from Mexico as the driver and sole occupant of a white 1998 Dodge 1500 van bearing no license plates. PALOMO made a negative Customs declaration to U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) Officer Brownell by stating that she was bringing nothing from Mexico. During the inspection, Officer Brownell smelled a strong gasoline odor and observed PALOMO become nervous and talkative. Officer Brownell escorted PALOMO and the vehicle to secondary inspection.

During the secondary inspection, a CBP Narcotic Detecting Canine alerted to the odor of a controlled substance emanating from the interior and dashboard of the vehicle. CBP Officer Perez inspected the interior of the vehicle and noticed that the engine cover was not properly secured. Upon removal of the engine cover, Officer Perez noticed an odd copper line going around the top of the engine and into the air filter container. Officer Perez opened the air filter cover and noticed what appeared to be a non-factory home made fuel tank. Officer Perez then tapped the gasoline tank on the under side of the vehicle and reported that the tank tapped solid.

CBP Officer Vandewalle conducted a seven-point inspection of the vehicle. The vehicle was placed on a vehicle lift and Officer Vandewalle noticed non-factory bolts and several fresh scratch marks on the gasoline tanks. The front and rear gasoline tanks were removed and had holes cut out on the top of each tank. Several tan packages covered in a green soap like product were inserted into the cut out holes of the gasoline tanks. The tan packages were found to contain a substance, which field-tested positive for the presence of marijuana. A total of thirty-nine (39) packages were discovered concealed within the front and rear gasoline tanks. The total weight of the thirty-nine (39) packages of marijuana was found to be approximately 87.10 kilograms.
